Good Apple Honorees

Lael and Peter Brodsky

The Texas Appleseed Board of Directors is proud to honor Lael and Peter Brodsky with the 2024 J. Chrys Dougherty Good Apple Award. Lael and Peter are respected civic and philanthropic leaders whose contributions have extended educational opportunities, spurred economic development, and strengthened neighborhoods and communities for countless families in Dallas and beyond.

Lael is a dedicated community activist who focuses on issues of justice and empowerment. She is the immediate past Board Chair of the Innocence Project of Texas and a Board Member of North Texas Public Broadcasting. She has also supported numerous organizations serving women and girls, including as a past Board Member of the North Texas Association for the Reduction of Pregnancy in Teens, of which she was also Board Chair; Planned Parenthood of Greater Texas; Friends of Planned Parenthood, of which she was also a Board Chair; and the Texas Women's Foundation, for which she also co-chaired the 2018 luncheon and raised $1.6 million. Lael also previously served on the Board of Greenhill School. A prolific fundraiser, Lael has raised more than $5 million for philanthropic causes in Dallas and throughout Texas. In memory of Jacob, Lael and Peter's son, Lael is currently focused on the issue of fentanyl's proliferation in our community.

Peter is an investor and business executive dedicated to systemic change. For the last two decades, he has worked to expand economic opportunity and improve community safety for everyone living in the North Texas region. He currently serves as the Board Chair of Housing Forward and serves on the Boards of KIPP Texas, the Trinity Park Conservancy, Forest Forward, and the UT Southwestern President's Advisory Board. Previously, Peter served as the Board Chair of the City of Dallas' Animal Advisory Commission and KIPP Dallas-Fort Worth, and on the boards of North Texas Public Broadcasting, AT&T Performing Arts Center, Vogel Alcove, Dallas Symphony Orchestra, and Greenhill School. He also is a member of the Dallas Assembly, an organization of leaders from Dallas' business, civic, and nonprofit sectors who are committed to the betterment of the city. In 2023, Peter was awarded the J. Erik Jonsson Ethics Award by Southern Methodist University's Cary M. Maguire Center for Ethics and Public Responsibility.

In 2015, Lael and Peter purchased the former Red Bird Mall in Dallas, now called the Shops at RedBird, with the goal of creating a new mixed-use development to spur economic growth in Southern Dallas. The project has resulted in more than 1,500 new jobs and has brought a resurgence of new investment to the area, including health care, retail, and housing.

Pro Bono Leadership Award Recipients

Texas Appleseed is pleased to present the 2024 Pro Bono Leadership Awards to two outstanding law firms that have been integral to our justice work.

LATHAM LATHAM & WATKINS

Latham & Watkins LLP

Latham & Watkins has conducted research projects in every one of Texas Appleseed's project areas, as well as for cross-programmatic efforts, including a project focused on the impact of school and housing segregation on families in our state. Since 2023, Latham & Watkins has contributed an astounding 1,700 pro bono hours to Texas Appleseed projects. The volume, range, and proactive nature of their support enables Texas Appleseed to approach systemic racial, economic, and social justice issues from multiple angles in a way that effects significant and enduring change.

SIDLEY

Sidley Austin LLP

Sidley is a critical partner in Texas Appleseed's newest effort to support survivors of domestic abuse, the Coerced Debt Relief pilot program, which matches attorneys with victims of coerced debt to help them attain financial relief. Sidley currently represents a significant majority of the project's active volunteer pool. Not only are they supporting survivors in their time of need, but their participation, trust, and enthusiasm have also enabled Texas Appleseed to grow and expand in new ways.

Mission

Texas Appleseed promotes social, economic, and racial justice for all Texans by leveraging the skills and resources of volunteer lawyers, other professionals, and community partners to identify practical solutions to difficult, systemic problems.

About Us

Founded in 1996, Texas Appleseed is a justice-driven nonpartisan nonprofit working at the intersection of policy, advocacy, and the law to improve the lives of Texans. We serve as a trusted source for data-centric policy analysis across the state. As a leading voice for systemic and social change that strives for equitable and strong communities, our work has shaped hundreds of state and local policies and impacted millions of Texans.

About the Event

Since 2002, Texas Appleseed has honored leaders for their contributions to the community at our Good Apple Dinner. The Board of Directors awards the J. Chrys Dougherty Good Apple Award as our highest recognition to luminaries who have helped shape Texas for the better and whose work has inspired us all. Texas Appleseed has honored many amazing Texans, including Charles Butt, Chief Justice Wallace B. Jefferson, Harriet Miers, and most recently, Melanie Gray and Mark Wawro.

We also present Pro Bono Leadership Awards to individuals and firms who have provided much-needed pro bono service to Texas Appleseed on urgent issues. These individuals and firms have offered critical help to Texans who didn't know where else to turn.

The Good Apple Dinner successfully furthers our justice work through the indispensable support of major institutions, law firms, and countless individuals who want to see positive policy change in Texas. The dinner is a who's who of Texas, attended by attorneys from major law firms, judges and chief justices, other local and statewide public officials, university leaders, corporate leaders, and many other committed individuals. We thank our supporters for their continued pursuit of justice.

The Good Apple Dinner is also just a plain old good time. It's a time to reconnect with old friends and make new connections, all while helping further justice for all Texans.
